★ REVEILLE ★

. . . All Out For Victory

As we the Senior Class of Webster High School submit to you this twenty-fifth "Reveille," we stand on the threshold of a "war-ridden world" and an "All Out For Victory" United States. . . . During our stay in this high school we have seen the world problem and the American spirit develop. We have helped collect paper, books, and scrap, and now the Senior Class collects its memories of the year and presents its last recognition. . . . We have tried to record between the pages of this book the cherished memories of our stay here. Bidding a fond farewell to our Alma Mater and to all those who have made these years such happy and profitable ones, we face the future, happy that we have been able to enjoy a free education which will guide us through difficult days to come.

We Salute...

To you, the former students of Webster High School in the armed service of our country, we, the Class of Nineteen Forty-Three, dedicate with pride our year-book. Inadequate though this gesture of appreciation is, it is with sincerity that we salute you.

In days gone by we may have often heedlessly passed our country's flag floating before our school. Today this emblem has for us a deeper meaning due to the sacrifices which you are so gladly making to preserve the way of life which it symbolizes.

It may not be given to all of us to join you who fight in arid deserts, through pathless jungles, or on distant seas. However, in spirit we are with you as we do our part in the home forces.

And when the guns cease firing, may we together strive to see that the cause for which this war was fought is not betrayed, that with peace there will come lasting freedom for the people of the world—freedom of speech, freedom of worship, freedom from want, and freedom from fear.

ADMINISTRATION

A Message From Our Commander-in-Chief...

Many of the Class of 1943 are about to join Webster High School alumni and former teachers in the service of their country. This great cause will demand serious and genuine sacrifice. Democracy with its many "Freedoms" will never mean more to any one than it will to them. While fighting for this freedom, they will learn that it cannot be attained without obedience, patience, and self-control.

Paderweski once said: "Before I was a master, I was a slave." He learned the laws of music and became the greatest pianist of his day by self-discipline through wearisome hours of practice—"You Can't Take It With You," the name of a great play, has been adapted recently to read—"You Can Take It With You."

May these young people who now go forth to serve esteem the things which they can take with them, the value of lessons learned through honest effort, the dividends paid for clean living, and most of all the virtue of integrity.

"Self-reverence, self-knowledge, self-control—These three alone lead life to sovereign power."

The Juniors have sponsored two extracurricular activities, the Junior play, titled "Growing Pains" and the Junior Prom. Through the effort of the chairman, the co-operation of members, and the attendance of the Webster students, the prom was a great success. Under the capable direction of Miss White, the play also proved a success.

In conclusion, the Class of '44 is striving to surpass their predecessors and if fate does not interfere, they hope to re-enter Webster High next fall as Seniors.

Eighth Grade

OFFICERS

WILSON O'DELL . President
EUGENE LIVERMAN
Vice-President
BETTY HARRIS . Secretary
RICHARD HARRIS . Treasurer
EUGENE ELK . Cabinet Member

Distinguishing themselves by their tremendous backing of W. H. S. war activities, the Eighth Grade under Mr. Perry went to town in several ways. This class was the champion in selling Carnival tickets and, too, in this class was the champion salesman. They had an excellent record in bond and stamp buying, a penny-a-week contributing, and a very high average individual support of the Red Cross.

Seventh Grade

OFFICERS

ROBERT THOMAS . President
JOHN MARTIN . Vice-President
JAMES KIDD . . Secretary
NANCY MORSE . Treasurer
CARL WINKLER Cabinet Member

Doing its bit for American soldiers seemed to be no overwhelming task for the Seventh Grade, under the direction of Miss Dunn and Mrs. Nesbit. This class led all in the Victory Book Campaign. They are also ardently trying to achieve 100% Junior Red Cross membership.

Sixth Grade

Forty-five pupils of the Sixth Grade under the combined direction of Mrs. Scharett, Mrs. Poelma, and Miss Poelma, can look back on a very successful year. The outstanding events of the year were a Christmas Party, a Valentine Party, and a picnic.

Participation in assembly programs was another of their activities.

Fifth Grade

Many good times have been had by the sixty pupils in the fifth grade under the direction of Mrs. Scharett, Miss Poelma, and Mrs. Poelma. A Christmas party, a Valentine party, and a picnic were the outstanding events of the year.

These pupils also took part in assembly programs.

Fourth Grade

Especially patriotic are the fourth grades who, supervised by Miss Scherer, and Mrs. Brown, have spent a busy year making scrapbooks on the United Nations, buying defense stamps, and studying nutrition in detail. Assembly programs and plays, and a frieze, made in conjunction with Mrs. Brown's third graders, rounded out an active year.

Third Grade

The members of the third grade have done their part toward victory this year, as shown by their participation in the Junior Red Cross War Corps, and their enthusiastic contributions through the buying of war stamps. Under the direction of Miss Beman and Mrs. Brown, various assembly programs have been presented. The airport in Miss Beman's room and the frieze in Mrs. Brown's are specimens of their art.

Second Grade

This year, 35 children were enrolled under the supervision of Miss Hahn. Early in the year they dramatized the story of "Hansel and Gretel" as an assembly play. They published their own daily newspaper, "The Webster Junior Gazette." Another interest was the study of all types of airplanes in use today.

First Grade

This year 29 children were enrolled in the First Grade under the guidance of Mrs. Gaffney.

The children have enjoyed in acting an Indian play, "We-A-Go's Arrows." They also presented three one-act plays in assembly.

Kindergarten

Twenty-four boys and girls enrolled in the Kindergarten in September. During the year they spent many enjoyable hours on a grocery store and a play house unit. Books were introduced into Kindergarten work, for the first time, this year. A program for parents was presented at Easter time.

Miss Marie Stone, Mr. William Young	Advisors

Getting the '42-'43 school year under way with a stream-lined campaign, the students of Webster High School broke the 15-year precedent by electing a girl as president of the student association.

Soon after its organization, the new cabinet resumed the sale of war stamps and bonds. In October the "student senate" sponsored the annual carnival which was successfully presented by faculty members and students. During the winter months the cabinet provided for dancing during the noon hour. Later in the year the cabinet sponsored weekly student mixers at which the pupils of Webster High enjoyed movies and dancing.

The cabinet collaborated with the Sportsmanship Brotherhood in the penny-a-week campaign. The money collected was used to send "Couriers" to the Webster High Alumni in the armed services. The student association is to be commended upon the efficiency with which it has coped with the problems of the school. Under the able supervision of its advisors—Miss Stone and Mr. Young—the cabinet has done much toward helping the war effort.

Winning the all-New York rating, the highest available at the New York State School Press Association Conference was a highlight of the year for the bi-weekly Courier.

The staff, guided by Miss Kathleen Goetten, advisor, Virginia Hallock, editor-in-chief, and Virginia Hyman, managing editor, is planning on attending the conference of the Genesee Valley Press Association in the spring.

The staff ran up against printing difficulties because of the manpower shortage, but has managed so far to keep up its usual publication. The yearly Courier elections are held in May.

The close of this year marks a successful season for the new club formed from the Marionettes and the Public Speaking Clubs. Enrolled in this new club are 59 people interested in dramatics and public speaking. The aim of the "Neoterics" is to promote an appreciation of these finer qualities among the students. In order to expand the treasury, candy sales were held, dances and plays were given, and dues were collected from each member. Programs consisting of talks or demonstrations on the various phases of dramatic work and public speaking were held at each meeting. All in all the club has been very successful with its new program.

Getting off to a rather late beginning in November, Venatores Verborum finally started the ball of activities rolling with an initiation dinner, during which 21 new members were heartily inducted. Next on the docket was the election supper, especially noted for the fact that the boys cooked the food. Following monthly events took the form of regular meetings culminating in the grand May Banquet which was necessarily produced on a smaller scale because of the war. However, according to custom, it was held in true Roman style, greatly adding to the atmosphere. The Ides of March was appropriately celebrated by the Caesarites presenting a program picturing mythical stories.

Under the supervision of Miss Hollander, Les Babillards, the honorary French society, has completed a successful year. Officers were chosen and new members were initiated at an October meeting. At the February and March meetings, discussions were held concerning French cathedrals and French foods and various aspects of French civilization. Also during the course of the year, informal gatherings were held with the Cicero class.

Although the number of activities usually engaged in by the F. F. A. were curtailed by the war, the boys still went out and showed their stuff by taking 3rd prize in judging at the Palmyra Fair, and 2nd prize in judging at the Rochester Poultry Show. Curtailed activities included those concerned with the County and State Fairs, and the horticultural show. One of the big events of the year in the minds of several F. F. A. members was the time spent at Cornell University during Farm and Home Week.

Other activities included participation in assembly presentations. For the last two years their programs in assembly were quite outstanding and very popular. Among other meetings, an important one was the annual Father and Son Banquet. Their basketball team, playing both inter- and intra-mural games, won 5 and lost 5, resulting in 2nd place. The boys expect to have a softball team for the spring season.

Statistics based on past experiences show that from 60-65% of F. F. A. graduates will probably wind up by being connected with agriculture in one form or another.

Irma Musclow	Treasurer

The Library Club with its 54 members has been successfully rolling along this year under the new program consisting of ten committees. The President, Secretary, and Treasurer carry out the regular duties of the offices while the Vice-President, along with her regular duties, takes care of the membership. The program chairman has charge of all the programs for the year. The Publicity Committee takes care of advertising the library by the use of posters, newspaper articles, etc. The library is efficiently run by the general committee, while the teas, Christmas Party, and houseparty are handled by the social committee. The creative committee encourages the talents of the members, and the notebook committee records the activities of the club newspaper articles pertaining to W. H. S., etc. The committee chairmen are:

Marion Sanberg	Program	Betty Reinisch	Social
Betty Paylor	Publicity	Jane Holton	Creative
Catherine Hockenberger	General	Elizabeth Martin	Notebook

Some of the activities of this year included the annual Christmas party, noon luncheons, trips to the Eastman Theatre and various teas. The club also has been instrumental in furthering the Victory Book Campaign.

Senior Play

On December 10, 1942, the Senior Class presented the three-act comedy, "The Mad Hatters," by Kurty Gordon. Miss Ruth Hollander directed the play, assisted by Mary Ellen Willis. Grandma Hatter's decision that the Mad Hatters start earning their own living started the ball rolling. The entire family was nuts about something, and each thought he could make the family fortune by commercializing on his own particular aversion. Bunny's photography, Mom Hatter's dramatics, and Gigi's athletics all fail to bring the anticipated results, and things looked pretty hopeless with Grandma Hatter expected at any moment to pronounce her verdict. It was, however, the seemingly useless fishing of Father Hatter that saved the day. The protecting watchfulness and butler's-ball love affair of Angelica, the just plain nuts housekeeper, together with the family's activity proved very entertaining.

Junior Play

"Growing Pains," a three-act comedy by Aurania Rouverol, was presented March 26 by the Junior Class. Miss Lois White, assisted by Betty Reinisch, directed the play.

Terry and George, the children of Professor and Mrs. McIntyre, were sources of amusement; Terry as a tomboy and George as a love-struck youth. Prudence Darling, alluring and experienced, went from one swain to another, leaving each one dumbfounded.

Much to the despair of her mother, Mrs. Patterson, Elsie was unpopular at the dances. The appearance of the dashing Vivian further complicated matters.

George's fight with a traffic cop provided an exciting event. Terry also discovered the fun of becoming a young lady.

Band

The Webster High School Band, competently directed by Mr. John C. Cummings, enjoyed another year of successful operation. In June, 1942 they took part in the Victory Parade held in Rochester, New York. Although the graduation of several band members in June, 1942 left many vacancies in the band set-up, the entrance of new members from junior high remedied the situation very satisfactorily. Much time was spent in preparation for the annual spring concert and the sectional contest. The remainder of the 1942-43 season was spent preparing for the Memorial Day Parade. Drum-majorettes were Jean Cronkhite and Lois Weiland.

Under the capable direction of Miss Hunter, the orchestra played at both the Junior and Senior plays. The talent of the dozen members was also realized at several assemblies throughout the school year. Besides being an entertaining group, the orchestra presents an opportunity to learn and practice orchestral playing.

Combined Choirs

Seventy boys and girls reported to Miss Hunter in September, 1942, for the combined choirs. From these members, outstanding vocalists were chosen for the special choir. The Spring program brought the choirs' activities to a successful conclusion. The girls' sextette, chosen from the choir, sang Christmas carols over WHEC. Accompanists for the Mixed Choir were: Virginia Schutt and Phyllis Averill. Gloria Barrett and Violet Wright accompanied the Girls' Choir and Gene Small accompanied the Boys' Choir.

This marks the close of another successful year for the cheerleaders under the leadership of Miss Noble. The squad consists of four veterans and one new member. Virginia Schutt was chosen head cheerleader. This year a junior varsity was chosen to cheer for second team games. The squad, uniformly dressed in navy sweaters with the emblems on them, cheered the team on to victory. Various pep meetings were held in Assembly to acquaint the students with new cheers as well as to practice the old ones.

Cheerleaders

Sportsmanship Brotherhood

Each year the Sportsmanship Brotherhood chooses its new members from the Junior class on the basis of citizenship, scholarship, participation in activities, and individual personality. The aim of the organization is to uphold the ideals of Webster High School and to be of the greatest possible service to its student body.

As a means of financing its activities, the society checked at basketball games and at the Monroe County Credit Association's meeting and sold candy during the noon hour. The penny-a-week campaign was organized to raise funds for gifts for Webster High Alumni in the Armed Forces.

As part of its program, the Brotherhood plans to continue to make available a prize to a senior boy and girl at graduation and to start a loan fund as soon as conditions permit. Much of the spring planning was directed toward the annual banquet at which athletic and service awards are distributed to those boys and girls who are eligible.

The senior members at the end of this last year sincerely wish to the society and to its individual members every success for the future years.

The Boys' Safety Patrol, the service club of Webster High School, has completed a successful year. Under the supervision of Mr. Callan, the Safety Patrol has efficiently executed its duties, including its additional duties during fire drills and air raid drills. Much credit is given to the Captain, Doug Klem, for the success of the Safety Patrol in decreasing the number of violations during the past year.

Because of the greater stress on physical fitness, the task of the Athletic Council became more important than it has in many a year. The results of our Athletic program readily show their efficiency in handling this Herculean task. To represent the Athletic Council in the Student Cabinet, Charles Craft and Ethel McClellan were chosen.

Football

From the opening game of the '42 season, the varsity had the determination to be a championship team. They accomplished their goal by winning 4 games and tying one, thus sharing the County Championship with East Rochester. This marked the only undefeated season Webster has had in nearly fifteen years.

CHARLES CRAFT, Mgr.

The highlight game of the season came when Webster met East Rochester on the W. H. S. gridiron. This game proved to be a thriller, and ended with the teams held in a deadlock 6-6 tie. In the last game of the schedule the team topped an already successful season by trampling their traditional rivals, Fairport, by the score of 26 to 6.

When the All-County team was published, five of the varsity players were honored with first team berths, and several other players received honorable mention. This fact in itself shows the high respect for the players held for them by the coaches of the county.

Although the players deserve much of the credit, perfect coordination would have been lacking without the able guidance of coaches, Whipple and Perry.

Coaches—Roy Whipple and Philip Davies

Although this year's basketball squad does not rate high in games won, it ranks high in experience and tact gained for next year's highly skilled team. W. H. S. should have a bang-up of a squad next year.

This year the team was paced by Frankie Klick's dead eye supported by Ed Williams' sharpshooting. The standouts on defense were Doug Klem and Fred Schmidt. All in all we had a fine spirited team this year and they put up a swell fight, as all of our ardent supporters will vouch. The coaches did a wonderful job in developing such a peppy hard-ho-beat bunch and we all turn our eyes to our team of tomorrow.

After the first shouts of "Play Ball" had faded away, the six softball teams, which were chosen from candidates who signed up at the first call in the spring, settled down to the schedule made for them by Coach Whipple.

From these six teams, A and B leagues were formed. At the completion of their schedule an all-star team was chosen to represent W. H. S. in several games with other schools.

Mr. Whipple was especially surprised by the enthusiasm shown by the boys and hopes to be able to say the same about the teams in the years to come.

Baseball

Tennis

The tennis team of Webster High School got off to a late start this year due to the prolonged bad weather. In spite of this handicap, Coach Callan has high hopes for his squad. Several regulars responded to the call including the following: Eugene Williams, Gordon Weilert, Stuart Amish, Jack Hallauer, Bob Rochelle, and Edgar Williams. In addition to the regulars, nine other promising men tried out. This year five scheduled games were played with East Rochester, Clyde, and Brighton. All in all a good season was concluded.

First Row: Eugene Williams, Kleisley, Danzer, Hallauer, Brewer. Second Row: Edgar Williams, McLean, Rochelle, Callan, Weilert, Amish, Bachler.

Coach Whipple tried out a new method of selecting the track team this year. Competitive trials were held in all gym classes and the winners of each class competed for places on the team. They were then eligible to try their chances at the meets in which the various schools participated.

This program was in conjunction with the "commando tactics" in the gym classes and made available to all boys the necessary exercise which will be invaluable if they are selected for service in the armed forces.

Girls' Activities

September '42 brought with it a new physical education instructor, Miss Marian Noble, who supervised girls' after-school activities. Her assistant, known to the girls as general sports manager, was Ethel McClellan.

The fall season opened with a large enrollment for soccer. Teams were chosen and under the management of Anna Maier soon started the battle for first place. In order to complete the season before the weather became too cold, the girls played in rain or shine. Janet Sutter's group took high honors.

When the tennis tournament opened, Arlene Harris was elected manager. The ladder method of challenging was used and Arlene proved to be the best racket swinger.

Introduced this year were several new activities which met the approval of the participants. Among them were archery, bowling, and social dancing.

Due to the fact that not much archery equipment was available, only a small number of girls were allowed to participate in the sport. However, the results were very satisfactory. Melba Cudney, who was elected manager, took honors as the best archer.

A beginners' bowling class was arranged in order that those who wished to bowl in the league, but were not certain of their ability, could learn some of the rules and techniques. Miss Crowe, Mrs. Scharett, and Mrs. Poelma, all teachers at Webster High, assisted Miss Noble with the instructing. After several weeks of practice, the league fames got under way. Evelyn Schutt and Evelyn Husher were elected managers. Pat Pieters had the highest average score.

Social dancing was also very successful. A beginners' class was organized in which the girls were taught the basic dance steps. From these they could derive their own combinations of waltzing or jitterbugging. The Webster Girl Scouts had the best record for attending the classes.

Following closely in the footsteps of dancing came badminton. Carol May, a Sophomore, was elected manager. Every Friday night after school the girls met in the gym to challlenge an opponent. February 2 ended the badminton tournament with several sets tied for first place.

At the completion of badminton, basketball soon got under way. Teams were chosen and Marion Sandberg was elected manager. Games took place Wednesday and Thursday nights after school. After a season of vigorous playing, Ruth Wollschleger's team snatched the title for high honors. Class teams were then chosen and the senior first squad proved to be the top ranking players. This senior squad also defeated an honor team chosen from the other classes.

When the girls signed for volleyball, Betty Ann Collins was elected manager. There were enough girls to make up six teams which fought untiringly. The end of the season brought very good results.

Tennis and archery were repeated in the spring. During the lapse of time between fall and spring, however, new archery equipment was obtained. This made it possible for more girls to participate in the sport. Several new enthusiasts tried their hand at tennis also.

Baseball, a famous activity among the girls, was very successful. Webster High School gave out some really feminine Babe Ruths.

The system of leaders club, established several years ago, was continued this year. A number of new members were added to the original group. These girls assisted in gym classes with the various sports and activities. Each one had her own squad for whose direction she was responsible.

NUTRITION and SCHOOL WORK

Rationing and the scarcity of some food products demand more skilled attention to the preparation of lunches, both for war workers and school students.

Both need wholesome, nutritious foods if they are to do their best, and keep fit and healthful.

Our Home Service Department has worked out effective plans for maintaining lunches at maximum nutritional standards, while keeping them within the limits of war time budgets. For further information consult our Home Service Department.
